

Cervical Cancer Screening

Why screen for cervical cancer?

Screening for cervical cancer can PREVENT cancer

United States Preventive Services Task Force screening recommendations for cervical cancer

Every 3 years—females 21-65 years old

- Pap test

Every 5 years—females 30-65 years old

- HPV testing alone OR
- Pap test combined with HPV testing

Ask your doctor about being screened

Scan the QR code to learn more

